Our location

Barak Valley in Assam (India) is famous for  Tea cultivation, known for its lush tea and are the oldest around 300 yrs of cultivation, most famous black tea producing region in the world. Along with  Rice variety i.e., Joha (aromatic), Bora (sticky & waxy), Jeera rice, Deepwater Red rice, Purple rice. Higher curcumin value turmeric, Ginger (distinctive pungency, heady aroma, robust flavor and strong shelf life). We are also growing mass cultivation of  Fox Nuts (Makhana), where we provide supply for the entire year.

About us

We are a group of farmers specializing in Tea, Fox Nuts (Makhana), Rice and a diverse range of agricultural products. Our journey began with supporting exporters by supplying premium agricultural commodities, sourced with care and dedication. Over time, we strengthened our roots by working directly with farmers...

 Presently, we have taken a bold step forward establishing ourselves as a direct exporter by bringing our own grown to the global stage, we aim to share the richness of our fields with the world.

Vision

To nourish the world with premium, sustainably grown agricultural products directly from our fields, cultivated by the hands that grow with care and shared directly from our    farming community. Saving the long timeline which preserves the  organic freshness and cuts the overcosting due to brand marketing expenses impact.

Mission

01

We strive to empower growers and serve markets by ensuring direct access to sustainably cultivated Tea, Fox Nuts (Makhana), Rice and other agri-commodities worldwide.

02

We connect the hands that cultivate with the markets that consume, delivering premium harvests without unnecessary costs or delays, where big brands addon their costs for marketing and warehouse.

03

We work to connect our farming community with the world, ensuring their care in cultivation is rewarded and recognized.

Tea

Imagine procuring one of the world's most sought-after and exclusive teas  directly from its  origin valley - at the best price, with no middlemen and supply chain cost involved. Enjoy pure,  organic flavor and unmatched freshness delivered straight after  harvest and processed, so your  tea stays vibrant and naturally preserved for much longer, unlike teas commonly available in global market that lose their quality and organic life  kept in long months of  inventory warehousing (an average 10 months and even more than a year) before its sold finally to importers !

A  farmer-owned  export company proudly bringing premium Assam Tea . We are situated in the Barak Valley in Assam and is famous for tea cultivation, known for its lush tea and are the oldest around 200+ yrs of cultivation. Assam stands as arguably the most renowned region worldwide for  black tea production and is the largest single producer of it globally. In particular, Assam teas feature a  malty profile with a unique  characteristic aroma.

 Bulk we may provide you in 25 Kgs to 36 Kgs in a Bag. We may also avail you in customized Retail designed brand packaging between 500 gms to 3 Kgs.

Fox Nuts (Makhana)

The global significance of Indian  fox nuts is rapidly rising, making India the world's leading supplier of this 90% superfood, with exports expanding to the US, UK, UAE, Canada, and Southeast Asia. Our specialty lies in both  nutritional profile - high protein, low fat, and abundant minerals - and their use as functional ingredients in health foods and gourmet  snacks.

 Our Farming in Bihar (India) follow an  organic approach, harvesting by  hand from pond beds and producing  seeds rich in protein, magnesium, and calcium. The  cultivation process is deeply rooted in Indian agricultural tradition but is now benefiting from increased commercialization, branding, and geographical indication (GI) support.

 Build your own premium brand with top-quality  fox nuts, available in large quantities year-round at true  farm-direct prices — no supply chain or middlemen costs, ensuring you get the lowest possible rates.

Rice

Experience the richness of India's 🌿 rice diversity with carefully selected premium varieties — each offering unique health and culinary benefits.

 Premium Jeera and Jeera Boiled Rice for its subtle fragrance and fine, elongate grains favored by chefs worldwide.

 Extra Long Basmati Rice variety known for its slender grains that elongate significantly when cooked, offering a fluffy, non-sticky texture and rich aroma, ideal for dishes like biryani & pulao.

 Premium Parboiled Rice offers superior nutritional benefits over regular white rice.

 Joha rice a unique, aromatic, short-grain rice variety primarily cultivated as winter rice in Assam, India.

 Bora rice cherished in Assam, is naturally sticky and waxy, bringing authentic flavor and cohesion to both sweet and savory cuisines; it's gluten-free, 🌿 fiber-rich specialties.

 Deepwater Red rice revered for its adaptability and robust nutrient profile, ideal for wellness-focused meals.

 Purple and Black rice exceptionally rich in iron and antioxidants, adds visual appeal and renowned for its medicinal benefits and rich 🌿 nutrient content.
